

STEINER STUDIOS MEDIA CAMPUS

Steiner Studios, working with the Brooklyn Navy Yard Development Corporation, has created a plan for the future development of a “Media Campus” at the Brooklyn Navy Yard to meet the increasing space and service demands of New York State’s media production community.

The plan seeks to expand operations into the southeastern portion of the Brooklyn Navy Yard in the Naval Annex, as well as portions of the site around the Naval Annex, to allow the media production studio to grow.

ESD’s approval of funding for infrastructure improvements necessary to implement the project would facilitate a state-of-the-art, full-service Media Campus that would consist of approximately 350,000 square feet inside the Naval Annex and an additional 70,000 square feet for a new "Back Lot" outside the Naval Annex. Steiner Studios also is expected to seek financial incentives from ESD in the future for the development of a 250,000 square foot Kent Avenue Parking Structure.
