Pacific Park brooklyn

Community Notice

We are writing to inform the community that Greenland Forest City Partners retained an outside engineering firm to provide on-site environmental monitoring services. The On-site Environmental Monitor (OEM) is tasked with monitoring of construction activities to ensure that environmental requirements contained in the Memorandum of Environmental Commitments (MEC) for the Pacific Park Brooklyn are met throughout the project build-out.

After a Request for Proposals was put out for the position, Remedial Engineering, whose core business is environmental engineering and compliance management, responded and was chosen as the OEM for the project. The firm has a proven track record of providing OEM-related services at high profile projects that require multiple agency coordination and interaction with surrounding communities.

Remedial Engineering, which was created in 1990 to provide engineering services to Roux Associates, shares office space and personnel with Roux but is a separate corporation with separate ownership. While you may know that Roux has been involved in this project from the beginning, as FCRC's owners representative, and specializes in the development of environmental plans to address contamination issues on development sites, Roux does not provide construction monitoring services.

Remedial's initial staffing at the site will include the OEM who will be assisted by two Mitigation Engineers. This number will grow as necessary to accommodate increases in construction activity. The OEM will report to Greenland Forest City Partners.

It is anticipated that the OEM will be on-site beginning the first week of November. Until that time, the project will continue to be monitored as it has been since its inception.

Thank you
